Dedication of

We, the class of nineteen-hundred and fifty-nine, dedicate our edition of the ELIZABETHAN to all the students who will one day be the seniors of our high school and who will occupy the place that we shall soon be abandoning. Our hope is that these future seniors will remember as pleasantly as we, the happy times we shared with them during our years in school.

Elizabethan

With each yearly promotion, however, comes additional responsibility. The future seniors, we are confident, will assume the responsibility that we leave them and will maintain the standards of our school. This done, we know that their days in school will be as happy and as profitable as our own have been.

Senior Snaps

Yearbook Typists.

Rock and roll is here to stay!

Checking for silverfish?

Chubby Bunny!

Won't teacher be surprised!

Help send these boys to dairy farms.

The critics.

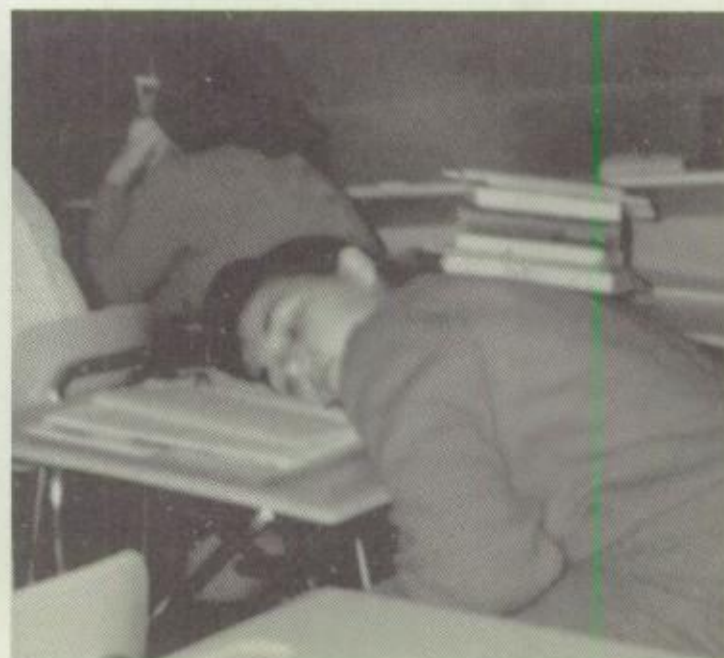

Our energetic photographer.

Anything else you wish, mistress?

Oh, you doll, you!

Dead to the world.

With the sunrise comes the deadline.

Robert Hall goofed!

Looking for something?

Mad rush after gym class!

It's a car, girls.

He's on the level.

Can this be school work?

She'll never leave the launching pad.

ADMINISTRATIVE

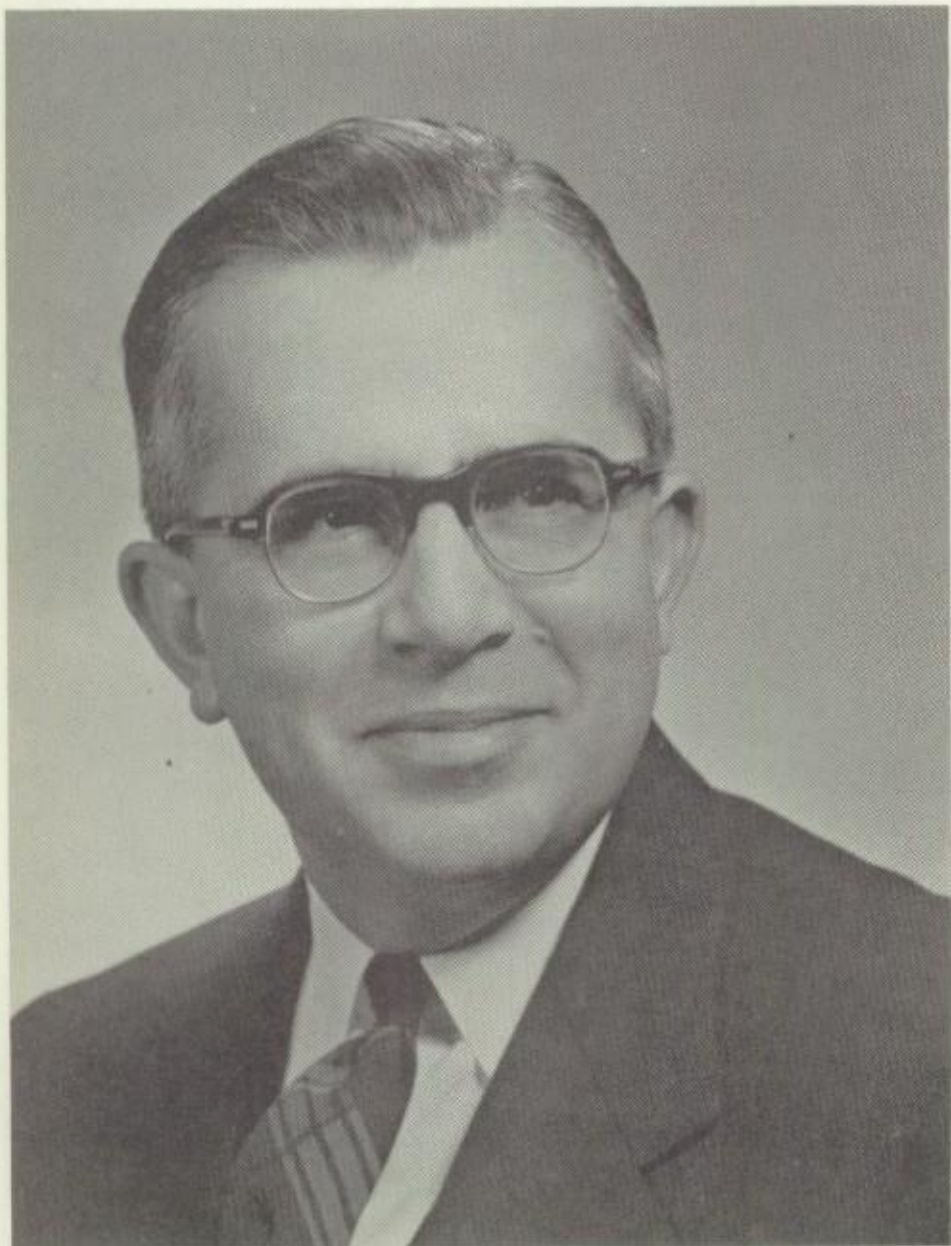

Handwritten notes at the bottom of the page, including the word "RR." and other illegible scribbles.

SEATED, left to right: Wilbur E. Weaver, Treasurer; Albert K. Garman, Secretary; J. Carlton Schuldt, President; J. Shelly Kaylor, Vice President.

Our School Board

This group of hard working board members does much to make our school system successful. Their many duties include meeting the financial needs of the school, maintaining buildings, and selecting qualified teachers. We thank them for a job well done.

DR. GALEN C. KILHEFNER
Supervising Principal

As supervising principal of the Elizabethtown Area Schools, Dr. Kilhefner has many duties which keep him busy continuously. However, busy as he is, he never has too much to do if some problem arises and his aid is needed, or if he can do something to help someone. Even on the most dismal days he has a ready smile and a cheerful "hello" for everyone. He faithfully attends the school sports events and cheers for the home team.

Apart from his many duties in school, Dr. Kilhefner is also active in church and community organizations. He enjoys taking care of the garden at his new home and spends much of his limited leisure time with his family.

MR. PHILLIP H. DAUBERT
High School Principal

Ever striving to improve our school's scholastic and extracurricular programs, Mr. Daubert is respected by all. His deep interest in the students and their needs brands him a well-liked and essential man in our school system. During the limited time from his school duties, Mr. Daubert participates in community organizations, is a faithful spectator at our athletic contests, and always has time for his family.

Who goes there?

I'm in the Army now!

It's all in a day's work.

Just one word of advice--

Is your insurance paid?

Today's seance.

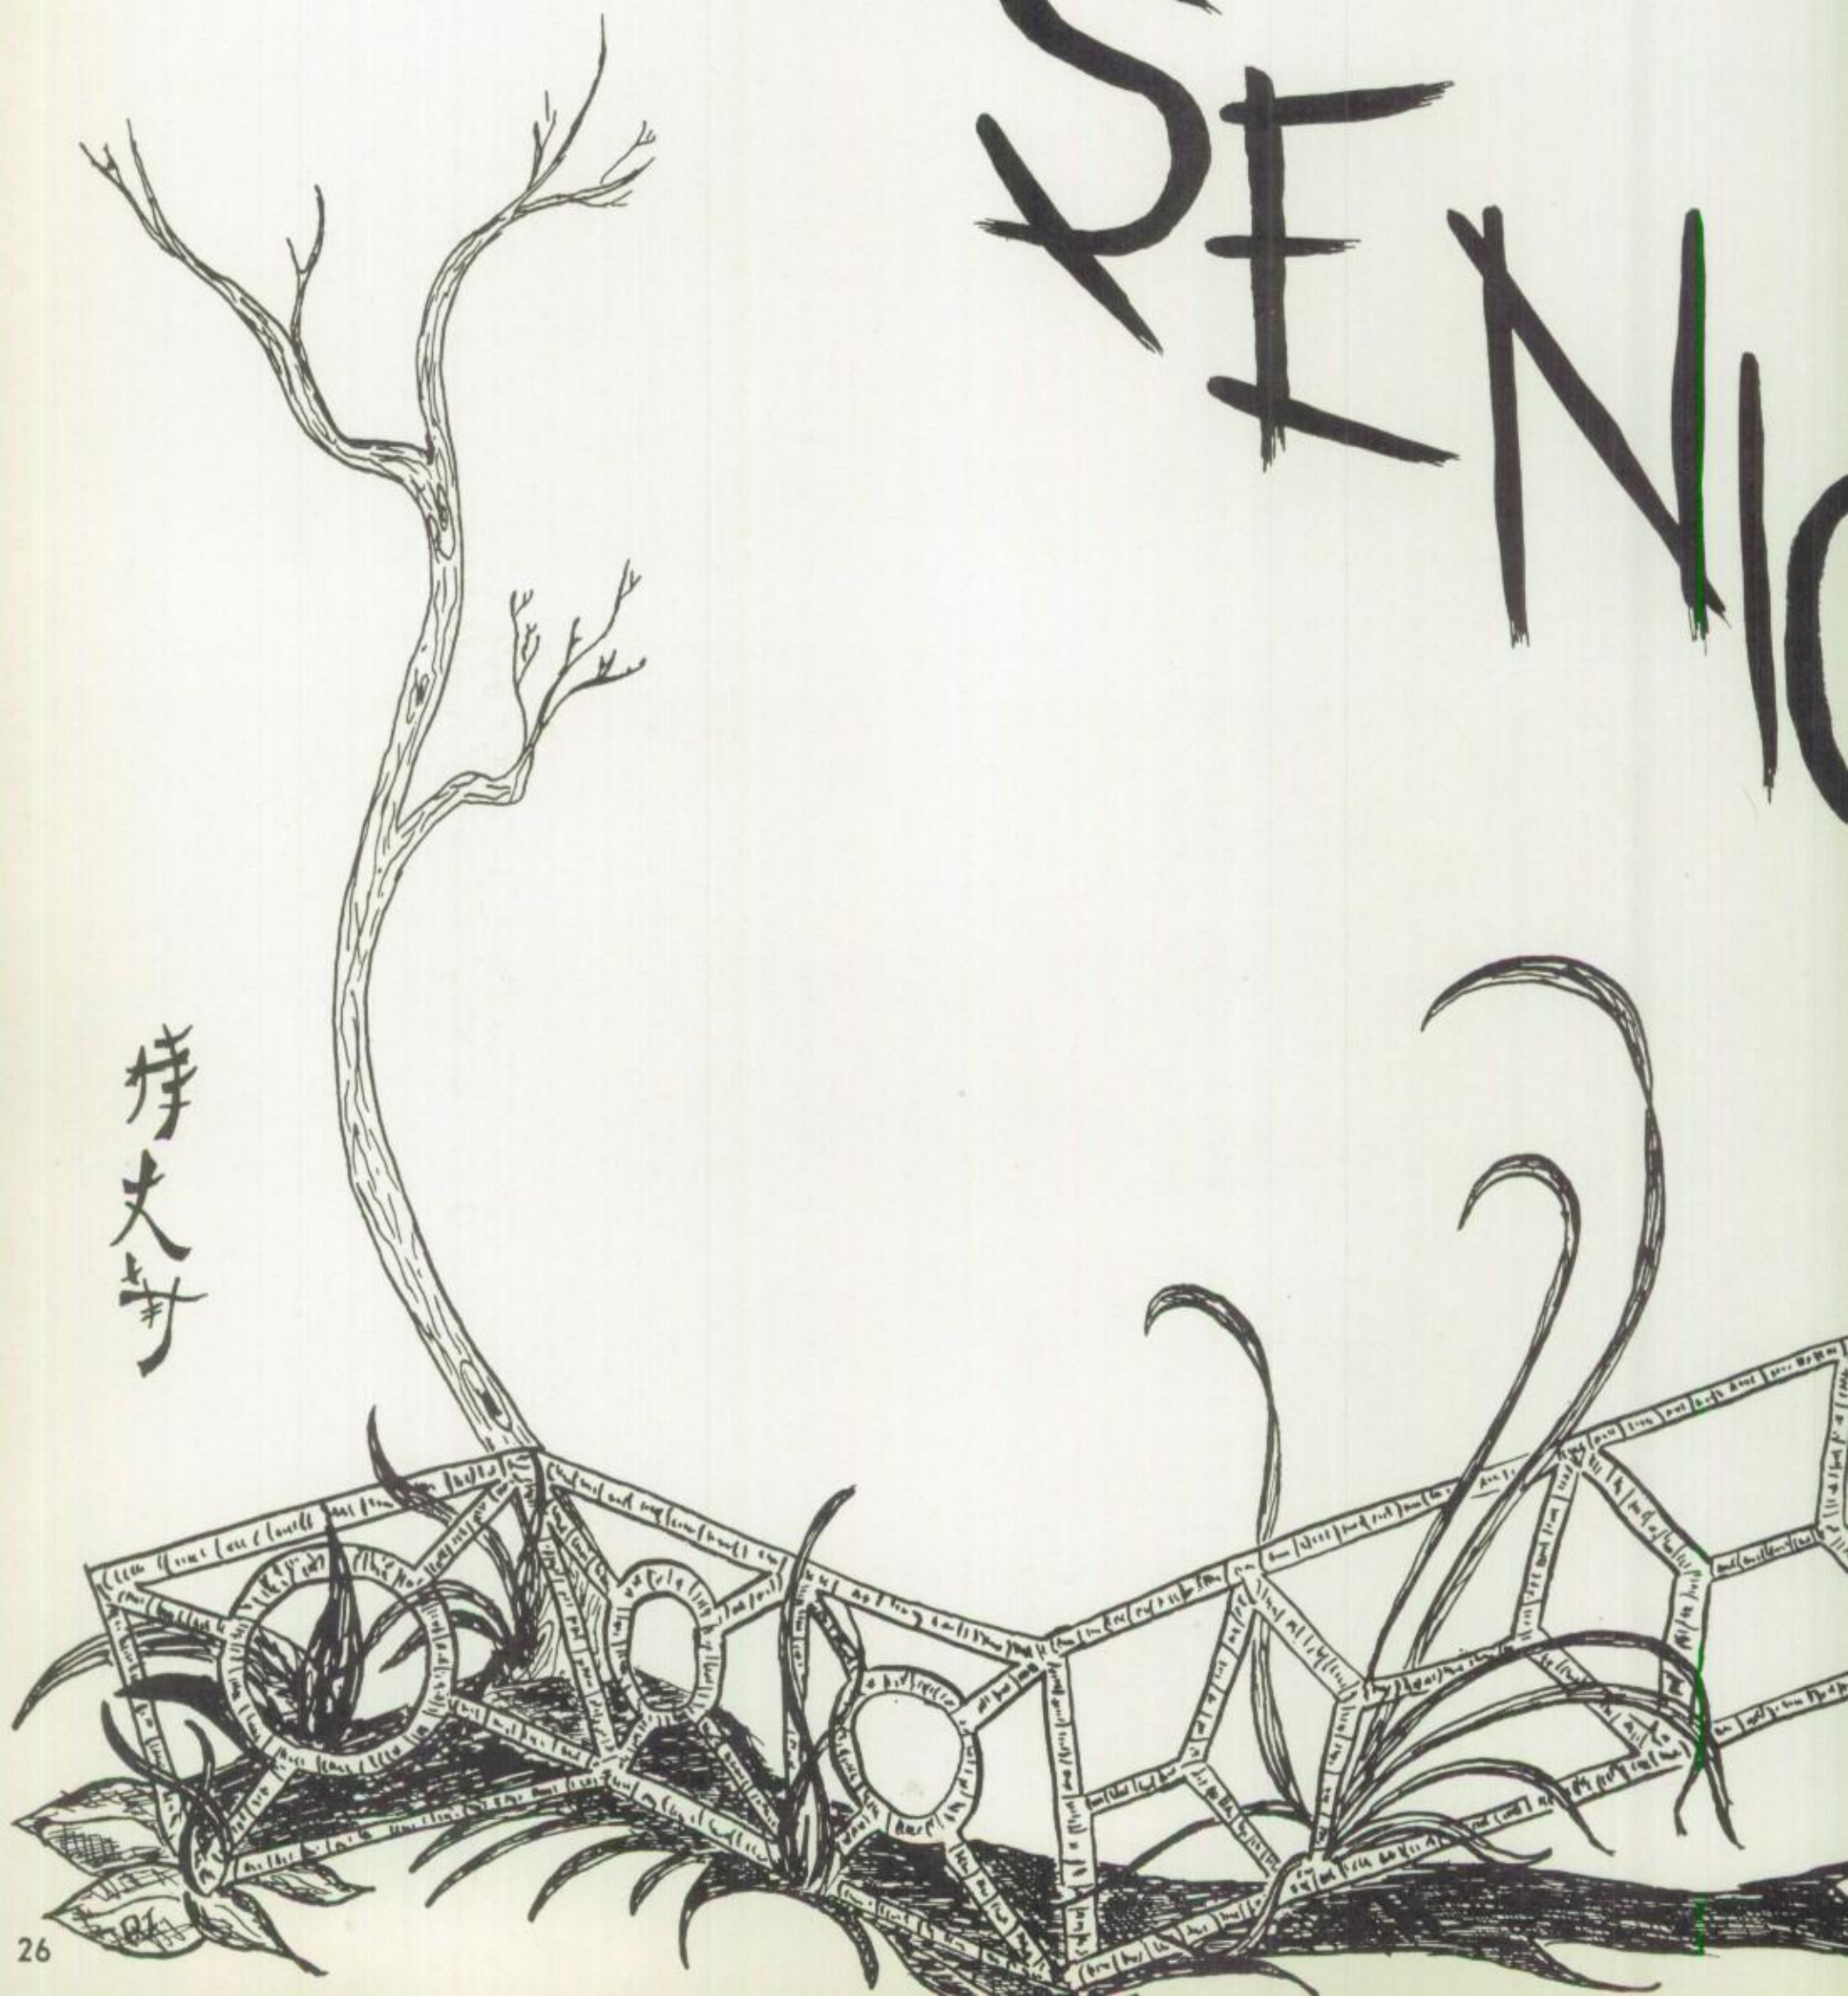

Uncle Klauss needs you, boy!

Now, where is that paper?

Class History

As summer was nearing its end in the year 1947, a group of peppy bright-eyed five and six year-olds, scrubbed and dressed for the memorable occasion, shyly but eagerly entered the two first-grade rooms of the Elizabethtown Elementary School. This day marked the beginning of twelve years of intensive studying, happy playing, and friendship making for an ambitious and promising class, the class of 1959.

Moving up through the elementary grades, the youngsters were introduced to the rudiments of an education. They struggled over fractions, decimals, and long division; they pondered the wonders of the exciting world about them--the miracle of life and the sadness of death, the smallness of an insect and the magnitude of a skyscraper. In other areas, too, they were learning. Little girls, giggling with life and vitality, diligently practiced jumping rope until they could get all the way through "teddy bear, teddy bear" without a miss in timing and rhythm. Boys beamed with pride when they hit their first home run or caught their first fly ball. No longer were the children oblivious to the fact that they existed only for themselves. There were the feelings and interests of others to be considered, and they were learning to recognize and appreciate the needs of their classmates.

At long last the big kids of the grade school were graduated into junior high school, where they were faced with an entirely new and different school-time environment. Recess periods no longer broke the monotony of a long day's routine; books were toted from room to room; upper classmen bustled about. Eager to establish themselves successfully, the newcomers to this exciting world of high-school life, joined some of the many clubs and organizations open to them. Up-and-coming musicians or vocalists tooted with the band or orchestra or sang with the junior high chorus. How pleased were the girls to serve a favorite teacher a meal which they themselves had planned and prepared in home economics class. Young carpenters explained how, with the aid of a saw, hammer, and drill, they turned an ordinary piece of wood into a finely finished piece of wood which would serve some purpose. Other new activities which added to the glamor of seventh-grade sparkle were the various dances sponsored by clubs or teachers throughout the school year. By the time the students reached the end of their first year in junior high school, they were well on their way toward becoming responsible adults. They were developing the ability to think through clearly and logically complex situations and to react in a reasonable manner.

Fledglings no more, they continued to grow mentally, physically, and emotionally. The remaining two years of junior high moved swiftly, and they reached the threshold of senior high. Many were the thrills enjoyed during the sophomore year. Class officers, elected for the first time, conducted class meetings where heated discussions were held concerning the colors of class jackets, and after many weeks of anxious anticipation the black and white jackets arrived.

As juniors, now only one step away from the top, the class of '59 handled well the management of the foodstands. They contributed excellent members of the various sports activities, so important to a well-rounded program. The seniors were enthralled with the delightful prom and post-prom party planned and carried out by their immediate underclassmen. Perhaps two of the most important events of the year were the arrival of the school's first standardized rings and the production of the junior class play.

And so this group of young men and women climbed to the last rung of the ladder of public education--they climbed into the position of seniors. Now they were the leaders; they were the backbone of the student government, of school activity. With the ever increasing responsibilities came a full schedule of activities long to be remembered. There were the crisp cold evenings spent cheering the football team on to victory, the long hard hours expended producing the Elizabethan. There were many practices forerunning the presentation of the class night program. There was graduation day when each was presented his diploma, signifying that he had completed the first round of his preparation for a full and successful life. They were now ready to embark on the sea of life putting the knowledge, gained through twelve years of training, to use guiding them through the rough and unpredictable course.

Senior Orchestra

This is the outstanding group of eighty-four musicians, who showed their superb abilities with their renditions at the Veterans Day Program, Spring Concert, Commencement and assembly programs. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Noah Klauss. This group spends many sixth periods of hard work to produce an orchestra of which we can be very proud.

Junior High Student Council comprises a representative from each homeroom in the junior high school, usually meeting separately from the senior high council, although the two groups work together on projects affecting the whole school.

The dress code, the school store, and the spring dance were the results of their combined efforts.

Junior High Council was also responsible for several dances during the winter and for beginning talks on a school honor code.

VARSITY CLUB

The chief function of the Varsity Club is to award varsity sweaters or blazers to athletes with two letter years in a sport. Advised by Mrs. Hoover and Mr. Wolf, this organization has sponsored the annual triple-header basketball game, and many other projects. This year as a gift to the school, the Varsity Club donated a portion of the track runway.

Composed of seniors and juniors, the Senior Journalism Club is advised by Mr. Price. Each week this club is responsible for writing our school newspaper, the "Blue and White," which is printed in the ELIZABETHTOWN CHRONICLE. The club spends many hours hunting information, writing articles, and typing them so that the students of E. A. H. S. may read and enjoy their news in the "Blue and White" each week.

In the past two years, the senior members, though few in number, showed commendable ability in gathering news and in writing interesting stories. The juniors in their one year as Senior Journalism Club members have shown great potentiality and their capabilities will be an asset next year when they take over the paper.

JUNIOR JOURNALISM CLUB

The Junior Journalism Club consists of sophomore students. Under the teaching of Mr. Price, these students have learned the fundamentals of writing newspaper articles and have applied these fundamentals to the writing of actual news stories. The Junior Journalism members have shown promising ability, and they will surely do an excellent job when they become reporters on the "Blue and White" next year.

LIBRARY STAFF

This ambitious group of girls keeps our library running smoothly. Always on hand to help their fellow students, they are kept quite busy. Miss Mengel, adviser, teaches this group the fundamentals of library work, fundamentals which will be useful in the future.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Though recently organized, this club has become one of the most active in senior high school. Mrs. Care capably advises the members in their various projects, including a scrapbook of field trips, a newspaper, and other educational programs.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

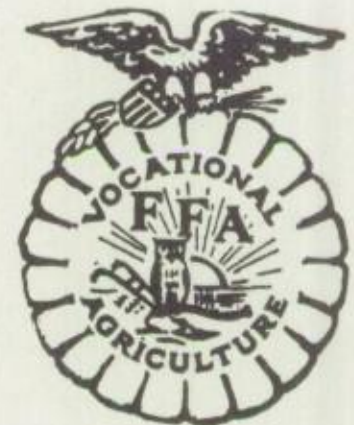

Future farmers learn techniques which they can use on their farms or in their gardens. Under the excellent leadership of Mr. Henninger, boys become acquainted with all phases of modern agriculture.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA

Junior and senior girls who have chosen nursing for their careers meet to hear speakers from hospitals and community organizations informing them of opportunities in nursing. In addition, Mrs. Baker, the advisor, teaches the girls the art of home nursing.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The May E. Gross Chapter strives to instill the highest ideals in the teaching profession for teachers-to-be. One of the projects is teaching in the elementary schools. This practice gives members of the club an opportunity to gain experience which will be useful to them in the future.

The Elizabethan

This yearbook, the result of many hours of work and worry...Oriental theme came to life in the capable hands of staff artists...Pam Irvine created our little Chinese mascot...literary staff members worked toward attractive phrasing and originality in copy...Sandy Farver, literary editor, worked overtime in producing the epitome of perfection in the write-ups...arranging picture schedules and taking candid shots provided Donna Barnhart and her staff with headaches...they carried their cameras as faithfully as they carried their school books...business staff filled ledger sheets with ads and patron lists, sold yearbooks and pictures in order to balance the budget.

Our sincere thanks to the advisers of this year's annual for their faithful service over and above the call of duty, to Lois Herr and Dennis Pierce, co-editors, for the hours they spent in creating an original and attractive yearbook, and to the staff members whose time was figured in periods of deadlines typing sketches, proofreading, mailing, and taking pride in their ultimate goal - this year's annual publication.

Once again our girls proved their ability in the techniques of field hockey by winning their ninth consecutive sectional championship in our school's history. Mrs. Jane Hoover provided the team with her excellent instruction during each practice and scrimmage and inspired each member with the will to win.

Great credit must be given to the defense for holding the opposition to only three goals, and to the forward line for tallying all those necessary points.

Coach Jane Hoover and Captain Jill Garber.

DONEGAL

Opening the season with a capacity crowd of ardent football fans, the E-town Bears scalped the Donegal Indians by a 32-0 margin despite their opponents' display of a fighting heart.

MANHEIM TOWNSHIP

Providing revenge for the previous season's battle, the Blue Streaks mounted twenty points to our Blue and White's twelve on the local gridiron.

MANHEIM CENTRAL

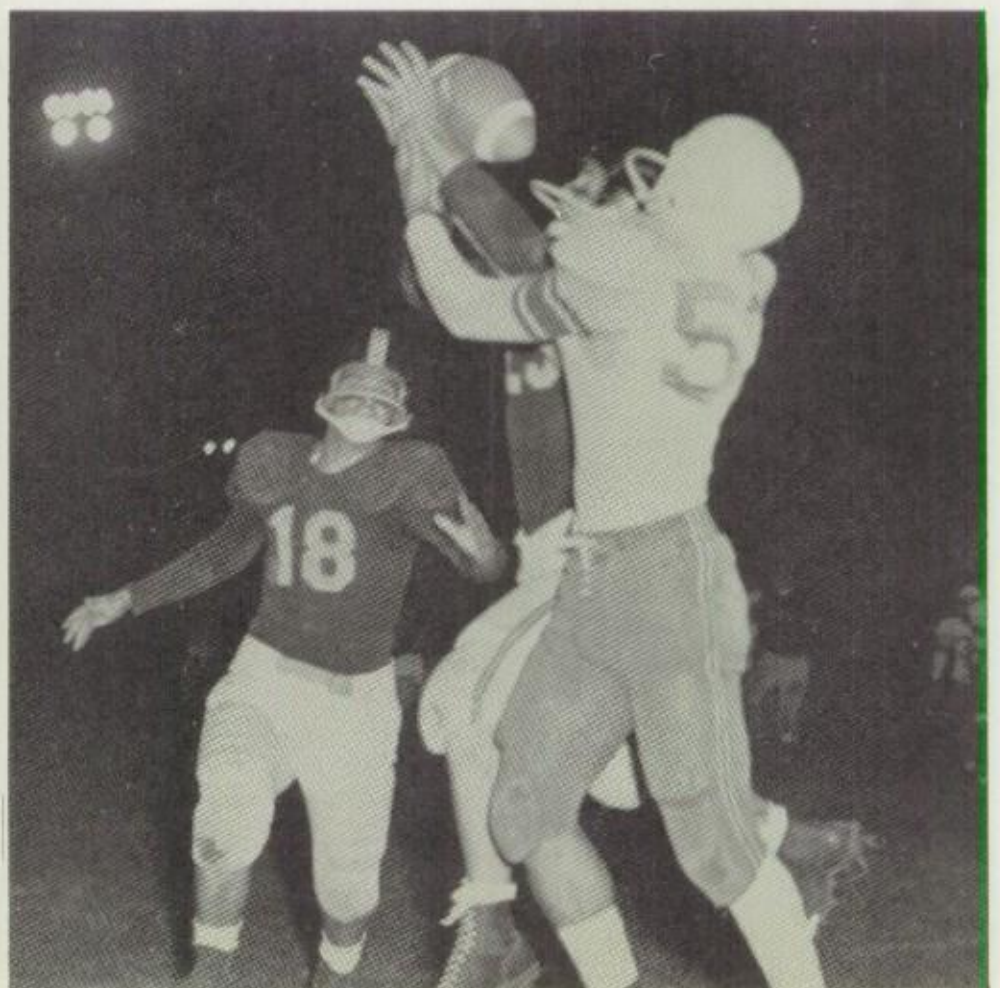

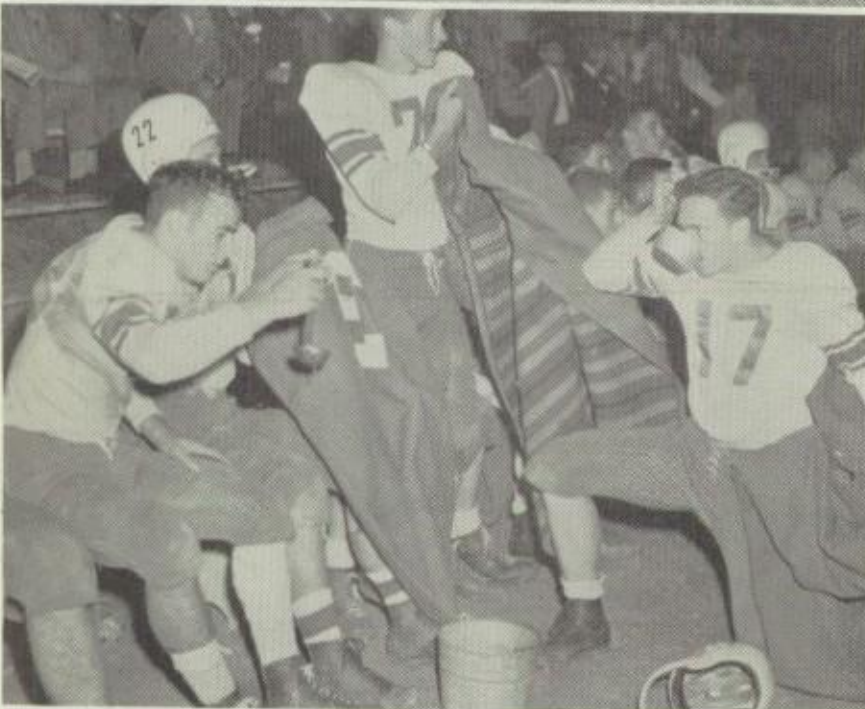

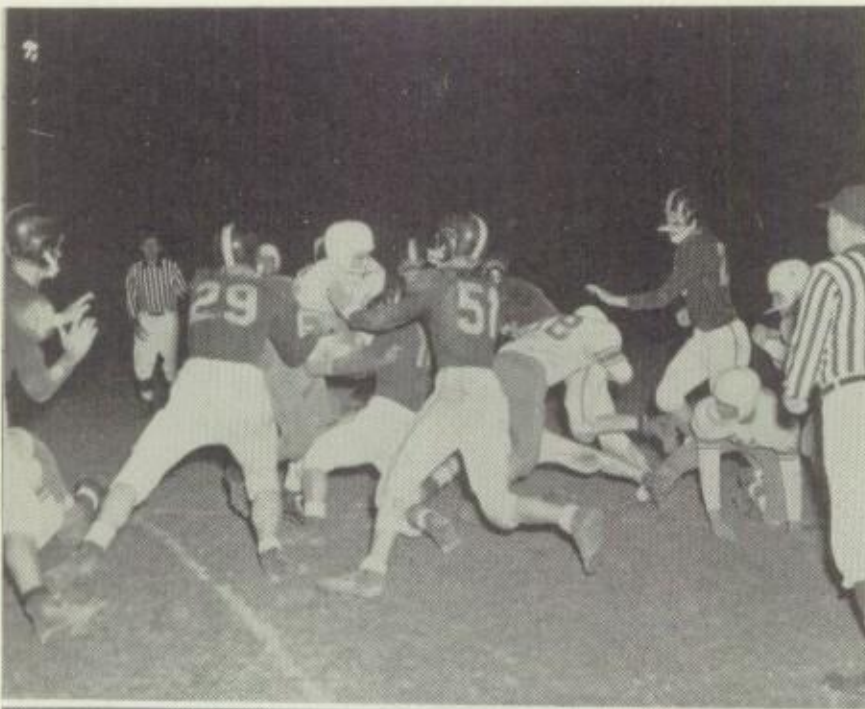

For the first time in history, the E.A.H.S. squad bowed to a strong, overwhelming Central team. In this well-fought game the Barons emerged victorious to the tune of 19-6.

WARWICK

Warwick's Warriors fell to the Bears onslaught by a 27-13 count with our lads setting up a 2-2 campaign.

EPHRATA

Although sports writers and broadcasters predicted a successful season for the Ephrata Mountaineers, the Bears unleashed their power as they rolled over the Purple and Gold, 19-0.

Review

COCALICO

Our lads were able to throw a few scares at the high-riding Eagles, before dropping behind, 34-13. A comparative newcomer to the conference schedule, Cocalico went on to a win skein to conquer the Conference of Roses laurels.

COLUMBIA

Columbia's Crimson Tide found themselves wiped out as E-town gained the lead in the early moments of the game and continued to claim the honors as they chalked up 26 marks to their rival's 7.

SOLANCO

Elizabethtown was proclaimed the winner as it breezed to an easy 47-7 triumph over the Mules in one of the final tilts of the campaign.

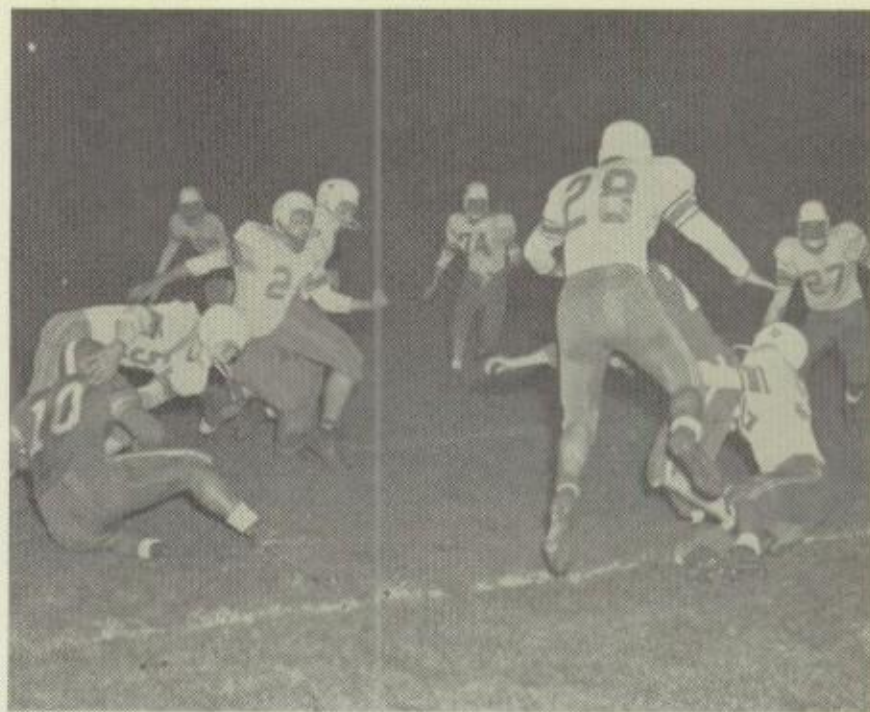

RED LION

Waging an up-hill battle in the first moments of play, the Lions fell victim to our Lancaster County team by a 20-7 score in the 1959 series.

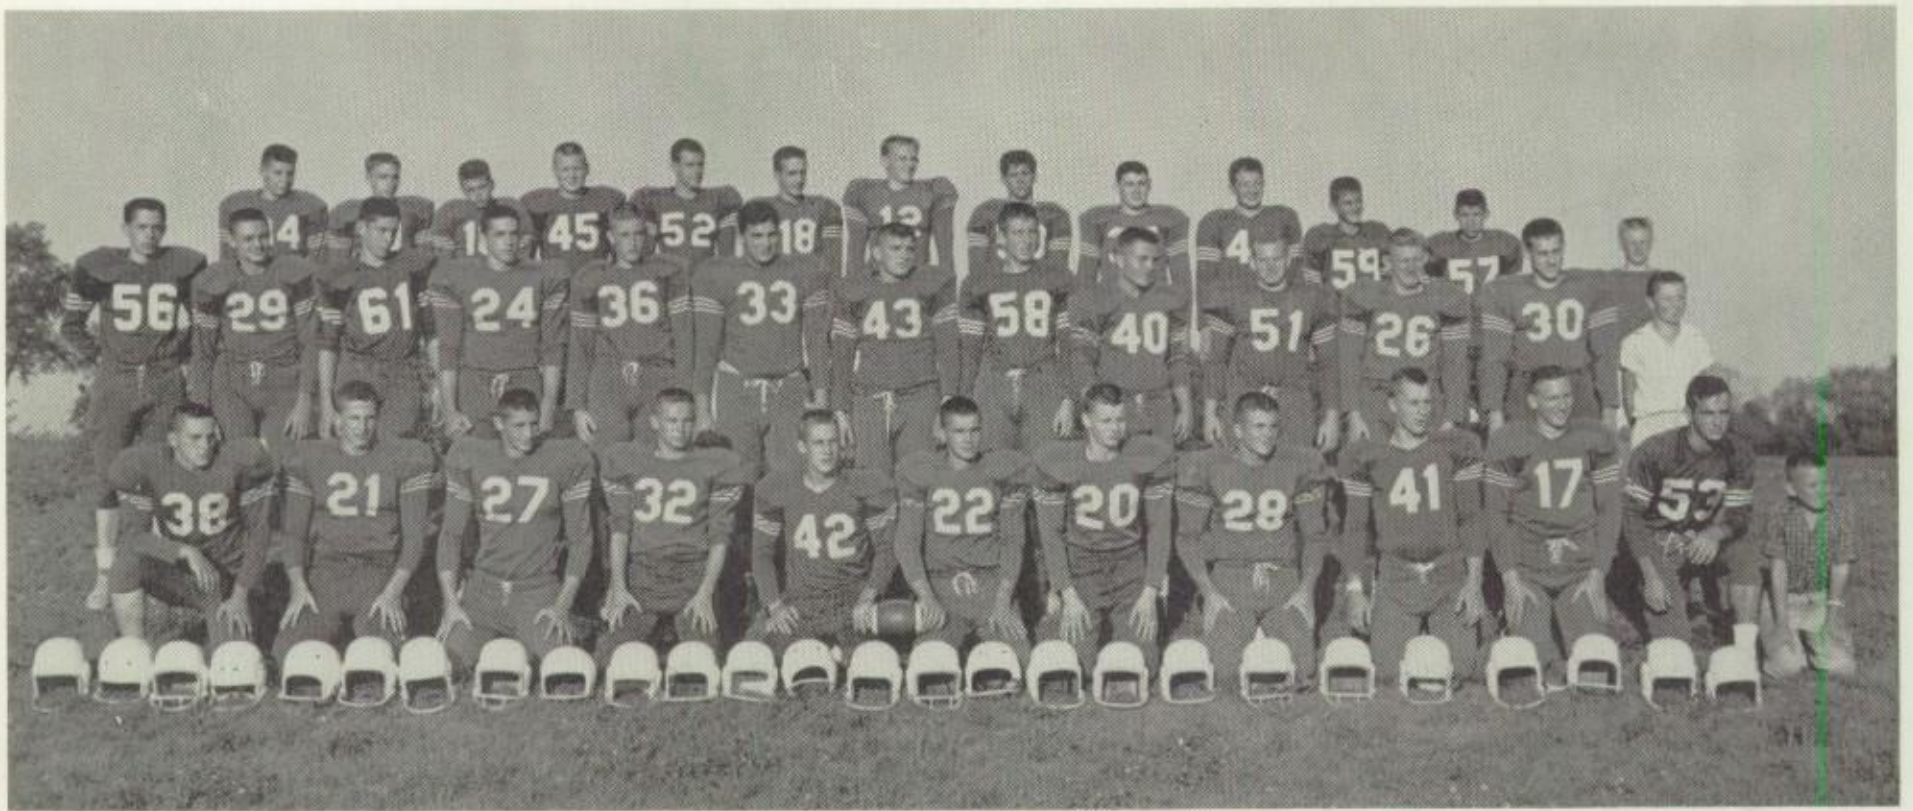

HEMPFIELD

The game, played as the finale of the 1958 season was too much for the ^{Knight's} Bears to handle, as they allowed Hempfield to reach a decisive 47-12 victory.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD

The 5-2 record proves the Junior Varsity Squad's splendid performance on the gridiron this season. With this record to show forth, they have proved themselves to be no team to be tampered or trifled with. Next year, with a lot of good material returning, the Junior Bears should grant any contender a scare.

ING - E. Carskadon, B. Styer, A. Shissler, J. Yohn, T. Patschke.

To date, our Bears have chalked up four wins to eight losses, despite the immense effort and zeal the lads put into the game.

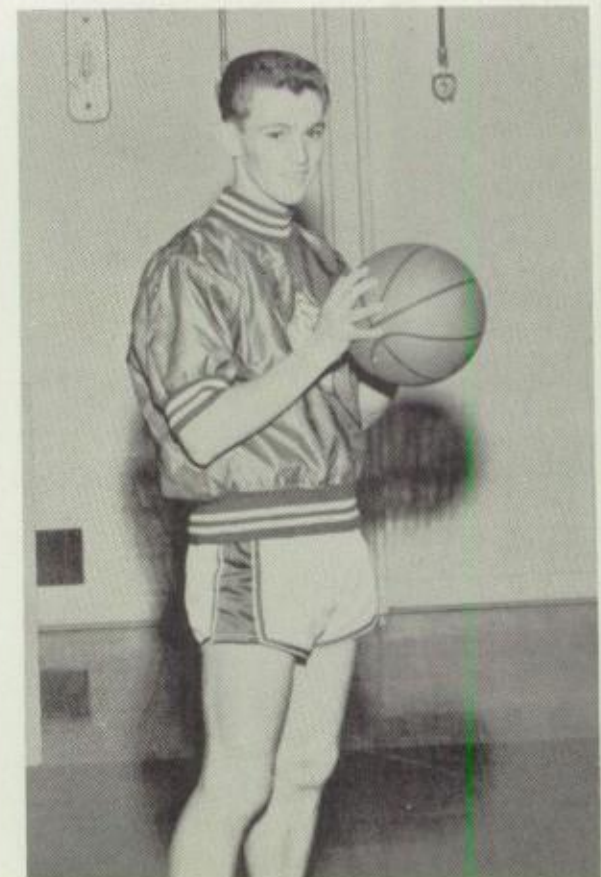

Under the capable coaching of Don Haverstick, and with most of the boys returning, we feel sure the Bears are looking forward to better '60 season and will certainly give any contender a rough time.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

A combination of traditional rivalry, balanced teams, and public support has always guaranteed the success of the basketball program in past years. This is evident in records of the interscholastic junior varsity basketball. The games were always well-fought despite some of the favored squads. We feel sure that with that vim, vigor, and vitality the boys show, they are mighty capable of coming out on top in 1960.

THIRD ROW - Mr. Steinhart, coach; L. Borrell, D. Stoner, H. Niel, T. Burgess, D. Rutt, R. Stone, B. Carskadon, J. Campbell.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Steinhart, the lads of this junior high squad have endeavored to do their utmost in every feat. We feel confident that as these boys climb the ladder into their high school years, they will continue to lead in sportsmanship, courage, and accuracy.

Tennis

FIRST ROW - B. Hill, J. Goss, Mrs. Hoover, coach; J. Groff, M. Beyer. SECOND ROW - J. Jones, S. Stillwagner, B. Wenger, L. Eshelman, S. Ulrich.

These girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Jane Hoover, boast an impressive record of being undefeated for the past three years. Each member is actively interested in tennis and can be seen practicing from early spring until the close of summer. The girls proved their ability to play tennis against other Lancaster County players by dominating the girls' division of the Lancaster County Scholastic Tournament of 1958. Since no one has been lost through graduation, these girls are looking forward to an equally successful 1959 season.

Junior Class Play

CURTAIN CALL FOR CLIFFORD

The action of the junior play, ably directed by Mr. Dean, took place in a typical American high school where a not so typical teacher, Miss Troutliver, was desperately trying to put together a class play. After much persuasion on the part of Miss Troutliver, Clifford Mumford, shy and retiring, finally decided to try out for a part. To his surprise he got the lead opposite the most popular girl in the school, in whom he was secretly interested. During the hectic rehearsals preceding the presentation of their play, Clifford and Donna, his opposite, became better acquainted. This action infuriated Donna's jealous boyfriend, Biff

Reese, the star football player. Much to the dismay of Miss Troutliver, Biff managed to foul up rehearsals as well as the final production. The head cheerleader, Flooper Bushman, a rambunctious, boy-crazy bundle of trouble, did not ease the tense situation at all with her silly remarks and unpredictable antics.

In the final scene Clifford won the heart of Donna. Biff was put in his place, and the play, despite the many mishaps, was a success.

Senior Class Play

A LITTLE HONEY

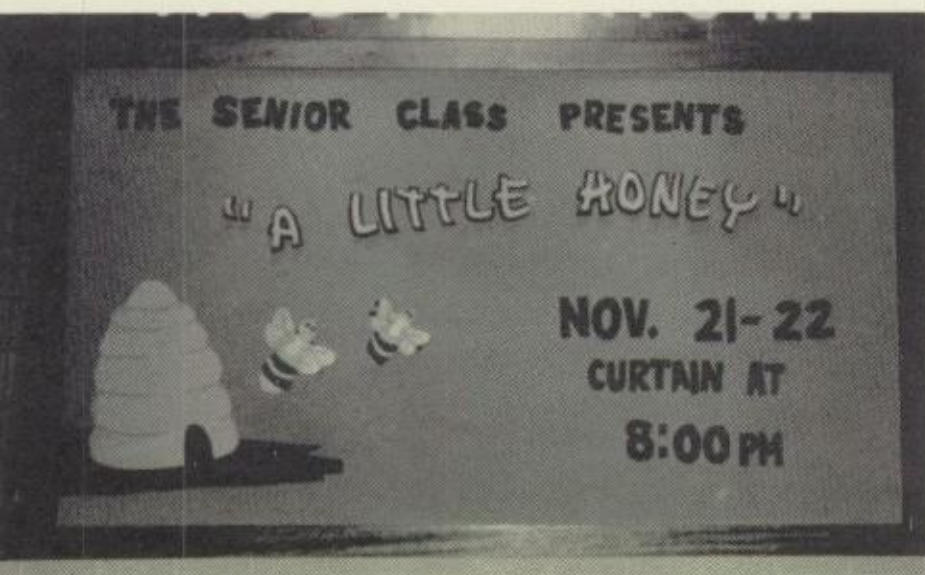

The class chose a comedy for their senior play. Produced under the direction of Mr. Grosh, it proved to be as rollicking as the junior play.

The plot centered around Diana Minton, a pretty girl who was in love with Tom Corning. However, for a while her brains seemed to overcome her beauty until wise old Grandma Thornton came to visit the Mintons and set Diana straight. Grandma Thornton proved to be oil on the troubled waters of the Minton family. She calmed Dolores, the cook, who went on rampages; pacified Jerry Minton with a new dress she desperately needed; and showed domineering Mrs. Minton how to win her husband back from the clutches of Eve Tyler, an attractive widow. She befriended Albert, Jerry's boyfriend who loved to eat and was always broke, and Scoots, the lovable kid sister who kept her frog in the bread box.

The climax came when everyone began thinking of ways to induce Tom to propose to Diana before he went back to South America. The time grew short, but Tom came through with the proposal and the whole Minton family, Grandma included, breathed a sigh of relief.

SCHOOL SONG

Joyous and every loyal,
Let us boost for our old High.
Let every heart sing,
Let every voice ring.
There's no time to grieve or sigh,
It's ever onward, our course pursuing -
May defeat ne'er our ardor cool;
But united we will boost for her,
Our old High School.
